CINCUSNAVEUR INSTRUCTION 6100.1

Subj: HEALTH PROMOTION PROGRAM

Ref: (a) OPNAVINST 6100.2
(b) BUMEDINST 6110.13

Encl: (1) Command Self Assessment Guide

1. Purpose. To direct implementation of and provide guidelines for the establishment of Health Promotion Programs.

2. Background.

a. The Chief of Naval Operations established a comprehensive U. S. Navy Health Promotion Program, reference (a), designed to encourage healthy lifestyles and increase organizational and individual readiness.

b. Commander in Chief, U. S. Naval Forces, Europe aggressively supports Health Promotion as a valuable readiness and Personal Excellence opportunity.

c. An important personnel function, this Health Promotion Program centralizes seven elements into a combination of education and interventions designed to improve or protect health and therefore, readiness.

d. The seven elements of this Health Promotion Program are: physical fitness and sports; tobacco use prevention and cessation; nutrition education and weight/fat control; alcohol and drug abuse prevention and control; back injury prevention; early identification and control of hypertension; and stress management.

3. Applicability and Scope.

a. This instruction applies to all commands within the CINCUSNAVEUR area of responsibility, all Navy personnel, active, reserve and civilian.

06 FEB 1998

b. This instruction is intended to supplement existing directives on the elements of Health Promotion, direct command centralization for implementation, and does not override specific guidance contained in existing policy (i.e., does not alter physical fitness standards).

c. As cited in reference (a), this guidance does not override existing civilian collective bargaining agreements. Assistance and guidance may be obtained from regional/local offices of the Office of Civilian Personnel Management.

4. Responsibilities.

a. Commanders, Commanding Officers and Officers in Charge shall:

(1) Aggressively support the Health Promotion Program by following specific guidance contained in reference (a), as well as through personal example and support of command activities that promote healthy lifestyle choices.

(2) Establish command Health Promotion Programs.

(3) Assign Health Promotion Program Coordinator responsibilities, as a high priority personnel function, to an individual suited to ensure an aggressive program and provide interface between the command and its supporting resources.

(4) Provide for training, as needed, to assist the Health Promotion Program Coordinator in their duties.

(5) Ensure command orientation programs include information on Health Promotion Program assistance and resources, highlight suicide awareness/prevention education and local military and civilian crisis assistance resources.

(6) Whenever possible, sponsor and/or support command participation in local community activities that enhance and encourage physical fitness.

(7) Ensure that food service personnel plan general mess menus which promote healthy food choices.

(8) Ensure all lost workday cases associated with back pain and injuries are reported in accordance with existing directives.

(9) Encourage sponsorship and/or participation in an annual Health Fair.

06 FEB 1986

(10) Develop or assure availability of command stress management and suicide prevention programs.

(11) Ensure availability of current programs designed to support personnel and their families as they deal with life stressors.

(12) Promote leadership programs that reduce job related stress.

(13) Provide access, for victims of sexual assault and rape, to high quality standardized victims assistance services.

(14) Provide casualty reports to CHNAVPERS (Pers-66) on all suicides under current directives.

b. Naval Medical Treatment facilities, in accordance with reference (b), shall:

(1) Aggressively support ashore and afloat commands as a primary consultant, resource and liaison for local commands in developing, implementing and fostering health promotion programs.

(2) Appoint a Health Promotion Program Officer.

(3) Establish in house health promotion programs, outlined in reference (b), which include at a minimum:

(a) Physical Fitness and Sports

(b) Tobacco Use Prevention and Cessation

(c) Substance Abuse Prevention

(d) Back Injury Prevention

(e) Stress Management

(f) Hypertension Screening, Education and Control

(g) Nutrition Education and Weight/Fat Control

(4) Serve as a role model for an effective Health Promotion Program through implementation of a command program and through services to support external commands.

06 FEB 1998

c. Naval Dental Treatment facilities, in accordance with reference (b), shall:

(1) As internal resources permit and as pertains to dental health, aggressively support ashore and afloat commands as a consultant, resource and liaison for local commands in developing, implementing and fostering health promotion programs.

(2) Appoint a Health Promotion Program Officer.

(3) Establish in house health promotion programs, outlined in reference (b), which include, or arrange for, at a minimum:

(a) Physical Fitness and Sports

(b) Tobacco Use Prevention and Cessation

(c) Substance Abuse Prevention

(d) Back Injury Prevention

(e) Stress Management

(f) Hypertension Screening, Education and Control

(g) Nutrition Education and Weight/Fat Control

d. Family Service Centers, command Religious Programs, Counseling and Assistance Centers, Morale Welfare and Recreation, Preventive Medicine Units shall:

(1) As internal resources permit, aggressively support local ashore and afloat commands as consultant, resource and support in local command Health Promotion Programs.

(2) Appoint a Health Promotion Officer to serve as a liaison to local commands in developing, implementing and fostering Health Promotion Programs.

(3) In conjunction with medical treatment facilities, serve as a primary resource in the areas of stress management and suicide prevention.

e. Command Health Promotion Program Coordinator shall:

(1) Create an integrated, centralized command Health Promotion Program. The goal is to foster command, departmental and individual training and support.

(2) Serve as the primary interface between the command and Health Promotion resources, (i.e., medical and dental facilities; Morale, Welfare and Recreation; Family Service Centers, Preventive Medicine Units, Counselling and Assistance Centers).

(3) Activities shall include but are not limited to: conduct command needs assessment; actively market/promote health promotion program and resources; serve as referral/coordinator point for local resources; incorporate health promotion into General Military Training and command orientation; sponsor Health Fairs as resources permit.

(4) Provide aggressive promotion of smoke-free social environments; command sponsorship and/or participation in local activities that enhance and encourage physical fitness and suicide prevention awareness.

(5) Conduct in-house self assessments to assure preparation for Naval Inspector General inspection protocol, in accordance with reference (a). Sample guidelines are outlined in enclosure (1).

f. All personnel are ultimately responsible for their own lifestyle choices and physical readiness. All personnel shall become familiar with the Health Promotion policies, objectives, and assistance resources.

5. Action. All Commanders, Commanding Officers and Officers in Charge shall ensure that the policy and guidelines provided in this instruction and references are implemented.

B. W. RUSSELL
Chief of Staff
